Student internship with new PCMA project in Tigray, Ethiopia 2019/2020: call for participation

The project aims to investigate the Aksumite site of Debre Gergis in the northern province of Tigray. Fieldwork activities are planned for October–November 2019, with a possible following season in January–March 2020.

The PCMA is glad to invite students to take part in the project. We are keen to select candidates interested in material culture documentation, pottery analysis, ethnoarchaeology, local history, community engagement or other innovative approaches applied to archaeology. The candidates must have good knowledge of English to be able to work in an international team.

The PCMA will cover the flight, visa, food and accommodation costs. Please, send a short cover letter and your CV (in English) to the leader of the project. If necessary, a short interview will take place during the last weekends of September.

For further information, queries and to send the requested documents, please write to Dr. Michela Gaudiello at michelagaudiello@gmail.com.

The deadline for applications is 15 September 2019.
